

Reference Letter

To Whom it May Concern:

I wrote this letter to confirm the needs of Alan Rabelo Martins, IFCE student, for needs-based travel assistance.

As a Computer science university student and intern in Brazil, his monthly income is less than US$ 125, and the cost with hotel, food, transportation and air ticket from Brazil to San Jose, California, is about US$ 2000. Alan and his family are unable to afford all of these costs.

While in Apple Developer Academy Brazil, he demonstrated differentiated development skills for various Apple's platforms, such as iOS, watchOS and tvOS, excellent fluency in English, and great spirit of cooperation and desire to learn.

Best regards,

Ajalmar Rêgo da Rocha Neto,
Ph.D. in Teleinformatics Engineering
Supervisor at Apple Developer Academy Brazil
Professor at Instituto Federal de Educação, Ciência e Tecnologia do
Ceará (IFCE)
